

Are you a person with an intellectual disability who has ideas or thoughts about what's important?

We are the CDS Inclusive Research Network!

We are a group of people with different strengths: university researchers, support workers, and people with various disabilities. We do inclusive research together.

Inclusive research is all about increasing the voice, choice and control of people with intellectual disabilities. Our motto is "Nothing about us without us."

The Centre for Disability Studies is a part of The University of Sydney. It is now 20 years old.

Our group have been working together for seven years. We regularly present at conferences both internationally and also in Australia. We're very interested in advocacy. We are intelligent, fun and happy people.

We are looking for new members! If you'd like to be a part of our group, these are the details:

- We meet at The Centre for Disability Studies
- Our address is 92-94 Parramatta Rd, Camperdown NSW 2050
- We meet once a month on Thursdays
- We meet between 1:00 – 3:30pm

We'd love to answer your questions or give you more information so you can come and try us out!

Please contact Tanya (tanya.riches@sydney.edu.au) or Jack (jack.kelly@sydney.edu.au) at or ring us on (02) 9036 3600 to find out more!