EDUCATION & TRAINING

This workshop will provide a brief introduction and opportunity to explore relationships and sexuality for people with disabilities.

The following topics will be covered:

- ▶ Social skills, relationships and sexuality from a human rights perspective
- ▶ Values
- ▶ Myths and assumptions
- ▶ Providing sex education
- ▶ Duty of care

Participants will take from the session an overview of the above, a knowledge of where to access resources & supports.

There will also be the opportunity to reflect on where to from here for their service, practice and the people they support.

The course is targeted towards service providers, clinicians, case coordinators and educators, however anyone with an interest in the area is welcome to attend.
