

An Introduction to Supervision, Mentoring and Peer Support – One Day Workshop

ALICE SPRINGS - 30 November 2017

Register now for your FREE place!

Workshop Information

This one day workshop is designed for disability practitioners/therapists who are new to supervisory roles or just want to know more about supervision.

By attending the workshop, practitioners will develop an understanding of:

- ▶ What supervision, mentoring and coaching are and their unique differences
- ▶ The role and importance of supervision, mentoring and coaching
- ▶ Reflective supervision practices
- ▶ Documenting supervision plans, agreements and minutes

Funding Acknowledgement

Funded by the Australian Government Department of Social Services

Visit www.dss.gov.au for more information.

About the Facilitators

Laura Hogan is an Occupational Therapist (Bachelor of Applied Science.) She also holds a Masters of Health Science (Developmental Disability) and a Certificate IV in Training & Assessment. Laura has significant experience working with people with disability across the lifespan with a special interest in supporting adolescents and adults with complex support needs

Jemima MacDonald holds a bachelor of Speech and Language Pathology, a Master's degree in Developmental Disability, a Certificate IV in Training and Assessment, and is trained in Applied Behavioural Analysis. Jemima is involved in areas of research, evaluations, teaching, training and person centred planning.

Date and Venue

- ▶ Thursday 30 November 2017
- ▶ 9:00am – 3:30pm
- ▶ Centre for Remote Health, Cnr Simpson and Skinner Streets, Alice Springs NT 0871
- ▶ Morning Tea, Lunch and Afternoon Tea will be provided

Registration

For more details and to register online please click here or visit www.cds.org.au/events

For more information please contact Emma Doukakis on (02)90363600 or at emma.doukakis@sydney.edu.au