EDUCATION & TRAINING

Planning Alternative Tomorrows with Hope (PATH) - a futures planning tool enabling you to support people to live better lives.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

PATH represents "Planning Alternative Tomorrows with Hope". In this workshop you will learn how to enhance your graphic recording skills and learn how create a visual plan for the future for groups, and individuals. You will do this by graphing a person or group's current situation, their goals, support, possible obstacles and decide on first steps of action.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This hands-on workshop is important for all people involved with facilitation as part of their practice, including consultants, team and project leaders, facilitators, trainers and educators.

THE FACILITATORS

Debbie Espiner, an independent Disability Consultant and Facilitator, has extensive experience in training human service personnel, teachers (including Special Education), parents, consultants, psychologists, therapists throughout New Zealand, Australia and Ireland.

Ray Murray is a training consultant to the Centre for Disability Studies and is currently leading the delivery of the Person Centred Professional Development Program for Person Centred Champions.
